ASME Conference Video Collection:

Support your institution's researchers with access to presentation videos from ASME technical events and conference programs.

ASME Conference Video Collection platform, from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) collects conference presentation videos from their technical conferences to preserve and disseminate this valuable body of knowledge.

More than 30,000 engineers across all mechanical engineering and related disciplines attend ASME Conferences each year. This includes authors of approximately 6,000-8,000 technical papers first presented at ASME Conferences. Most of these presentations also include video content.
